Speaking on the third quarter results, Chairman and Managing Director Mr. Rajan Nanda said, “Management initiatives have focused on entrepreneurial strategies that are opening up new markets, new opportunities and a better profitable presence in the market. At the crux of these consistently strong results over the past few quarters is the strategy of improving volumes and strengthening margins by introducing high power and specialized tractors. The performance is even more noteworthy when seen in the context of the overall economic environment.”

Mr. Nikhil Nanda, Joint Managing Director said, “What we see today is the beginning of a journey which started with a strong focus on profitability in a constrained market situation. The growth in farm incomes will fuel the need for mechanization, which will tend to accelerate as social welfare programs, urbanization and alternative occupations move farm labor to other sectors. Consequently, we expanded our product reach, introduced new higher HP tractors and tractors for specialized needs. Understanding the changing profile of our customers and innovating new products that address their requirements will be one of our key goals. Management will continue to remain focused on execution to further improve the operating performance in the months ahead. While the pain point has been the construction sector, there is no denying the ultimate potential of the business. We are also seeing movement in the Railways and Auto Products business which is adding to the bottom line.”
